

The City of Frankfort receives new Frankfort flag

Frankfort, IN – Mayor Judy Sheets receives City of Frankfort flag designed by 7th grader Redman Porter.

Redman Porter spends most of his time in Frankfort or Cartersville, Georgia. He always had a love for flags and logos. In 2020, he started designing flags and created the flag for Cartersville, Georgia. Since then, Redman designed flags for every city in his county, but only one community responded, Adairsville. He decided that rejection wouldn't stop him, so he started working on other flags for cities in Georgia and Indiana, his second home state. In February of 2023, Redman emailed every town he had designed a flag for, and Mayor Judy Sheets was the only mayor who responded.

“He did such a great job with the design and explained the importance of a city flag and how it represents Frankfort in his email. There are so many creative people, including the youth in our community, stated Mayor Judy Sheets. I can't wait for everyone to see our flag flying at Prairie Creek Park.”

When asked, “why are city flags important,” Redman expressed great importance on this subject, “I think city flags or flags, in general, are important. They can unite people and give people pride. I believe it is extremely important in Frankfort. Frankfort is trying to rebuild, and I think it is important to have a symbol of city pride that can unite. A united community improves a rebuilding (revitalizing) city because citizens are more likely to feel more connected.”
