

City of Frankfort Website has a New Translation Icon

Frankfort, IN – During Monday evening's Board of Public Works meeting, Mayor Judy Sheets and the Board of Public Works approved the added translation icon on the City's website.

"I have been working to make this happen over the last year, and I am excited that the Board of Works and Mayor are on board with the new translation icon. Our website is a useful tool, and the face of our community, explained Community Development Director Kimberly Black. We need to be as accessible as possible to our citizens."

The new icon can be found on the upper left corner of the website and is mobile-friendly. It can translate documents and any of the web pages. It is user-friendly and will instruct users on how to change it back to English if need be.

"Kimberly and I discuss how we can reach our community. I firmly believe that this will make more information readily available for everyone in our community regardless of their background," stated Mayor Judy Sheets.
